Conventions Sticky Note:
Write your editors' names or initials in four of the five areas below. You may check one of these conventions yourself.

- My spelling was looked over by ________________.
- My "end punctuation" was looked over by ________________.
- My commas and apostrophes were looked over by ____________.
- My capitalization was looked over by ________________.
- My grammar was looked over by ________________.

Conventions Sticky Note:
Write your editors' names or initials in four of the five areas below. You may check one of these conventions yourself.

- My spelling was looked over by ________________.
- My "end punctuation" was looked over by ________________.
- My commas and apostrophes were looked over by ____________.
- My capitalization was looked over by ________________.
- My grammar was looked over by ________________.

Conventions Sticky Note:
Write your editors' names or initials in four of the five areas below. You may check one of these conventions yourself.

- My spelling was looked over by ________________.
- My "end punctuation" was looked over by ________________.
- My commas and apostrophes were looked over by ____________.
- My capitalization was looked over by ________________.
- My grammar was looked over by ________________.

Conventions Sticky Note:
Write your editors' names or initials in four of the five areas below. You may check one of these conventions yourself.

- My spelling was looked over by ________________.
- My "end punctuation" was looked over by ________________.
- My commas and apostrophes were looked over by ____________.
- My capitalization was looked over by ________________.
- My grammar was looked over by ________________.

©2015 Corbett Harrison (http://corbettharrison.com) All rights reserved. Teachers may freely reprint this page for classroom use only. For editable versions of these Sticky Note templates, visit Corbett's Products Page. If sharing this template with other educators, this citation must be left intact on the bottom of this page.