

An original piece of student writing inspired by one of WritingFix's Digital Photo Prompts

photo taken by high school student, Crystal Ji

Lost and Found

a poem by Nina, fourth grade writer

Lost in the thunder of the night.
Found in the wonder of the day.
Lost in the mystery and the fear of the meanest.
Found in the love and kindness of the greenest.

What do you like about Nina's writing style? Which writing trait(s) does she excel with?

What story or poem might you write inspired by this photograph?